Louisville author and Humanity Archive podcaster Jermaine Fowler launches new book at the Main Library

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (February 16, 2023) – A storyteller and self-proclaimed intellectual adventurer, Louisvillian Jermaine Fowler spent his youth seeking knowledge on the shelves of his local free public library. Today, he is the host of the top-rated history podcast “The Humanity Archive” and author of a new book of the same name. The book is a sweeping survey of Black history that challenges dominant perspectives and goes outside the textbooks to tell stories that are recognizably human. Connecting current issues with the heroic struggles of those who have come before, Fowler brings hidden history to light and makes it powerfully relevant today.

Join Jermaine Fowler for the launch of The Humanity Archive: Recovering the Soul of Black History from a Whitewashed American Myth at the Main Library (301 York Street) on Tuesday, February 28 at 7 p.m. This program is free and presented in partnership with Carmichael’s Bookstore.

To register for the event, go to LFPL.org/Authors or call (502) 574-1644.

Books are available now for pre-purchase at CarmichaelsBookstore.com/book/9781955905145, and will be on sale the night of the program.
